84 year-old SAM RIVERS is one of a very few artists that can genuinely be described as a living legend. A virtuoso soloist on saxophones and a devastatingly original flautist, he is also one of the great composers, whose work digs into the entire history of the music, delving deep into tradition as well as challenging boundaries.

Tonight's concert features a specially recruited British big band with some of the most exciting names on the scene.

DHAFER YOUSSEF

Thu 18 Nov Queen Elizabeth Hall 7.45pm

with Arve Henriksen, Eivind Aarset, Audun Eriien and Rune Arnesen

'The kind of gig you watched and prayed would never end'
 Straight no Chaser

Dhafer Youssef is one of the most charismatic musicians to emerge on the European music scene in recent years. With this specially commissioned project, the evocative soundscapes of Norway's most influential electronic jazz musicians are infused with the intense spirituality of Sufi, to create a sonic world which is at once ancient and modern.
